

WORKSHOP ON SALES ACCELERATION

SYMBIOSIS INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY

ABOUT SCMHRD

Born out of the vision of its founder Dr. S. B. Mujumdar in 1993, Symbiosis Centre for Management and Human Resource Development (SCMHRD) has been actively involved in delivering quality education to promote international understanding. With an eclectic mix of students at hand, SCMHRD has been nurturing them towards transforming raw talents into employable management professionals. With a rigorous curriculum coupled with experiential learning, the nurturing process has been able to prove its worth of salt in the last 24 years.

Right from its inception, SCMHRD has had adopted an industry focused outlook. The prime reason for this was to achieve industry academia congruence in terms of the curriculum and its delivery mechanism. This served as a hygiene factor ensuring a healthy acceptance record of SCMHRD students in highly sought after companies post their MBA. The relationship thus forged, has prompted SCMHRD to also embark upon Management Development Programmes (MDP) for different Organisations as well as part-time MBA and PG programmes for working professionals, wherein, organisations choose to leverage upon the expertise of SCMHRD to cater to their learning and development needs. This is done partly by sponsoring their employees for the executive MBA and PG diploma programmes at SCMHRD; and partly by either sending their employees to the open MDPs or getting customised MDPs designed and delivered by SCMHRD. Either way, it's a win-win situation for both.

Over the years, SCMHRD has been able to weave various success stories through its expertise in learning and development, applied research and academic acumen. Not resting on its laurels, SCMHRD constantly seeks opportunities to leverage upon its strengths to assist organisations in designing and delivering interventions in the shape of learning and development programmes. This in turn, augments the overall canvas of organisational efficiency, sustainability and success in the long run. In return, it only strengthens the academic acumen of SCMHRD.
